

HIGH WATER CAUSES CLOSING — While free tourist information, as the sign states, and the sale of boats may still be available at Kampeska Lodge on North Lake Drive, its owners, Doris and Rich Wilkey, were forced to lock the door Monday because of the onrush of flood water. Wilkey said the lodge would have to remain closed for the duration of the flood at Lake Kampeska. The lodge is representative of what a number of structures look like today as the lake level matched the 1986 record level of 36 inches. (Public Opinion photo by Gordon Garnos)
