

Sandbagging was on the menu

KEN DRAKE, owner of the Lakeshore, on the right with his back to the camera, and several employees who volunteered their services spent Monday sandbagging near the supper club next to Lake Kampeska's inlet. There were 38,000 sandbags distributed to lake residents Monday by the Codington County Civil Defense office. A truck was scheduled to arrive today (Tuesday) with another 60,000. The lake's water level this morning matched the 36-inches above full record set in 1986 and the possibility of the water level reaching the 1969 record of 37.5 inches above full could be a reality by Wednesday morning. Several lake homes were surrounded by water this morning. Strong wind today added to the problems caused by the high water at the lake. (Public Opinion photo by Gordon Garnos)
