

ROLLIN' DOWN THE RIVER — The Big Sioux River has pumped millions of gallons of runoff rainwater into Lake Kameska in the last few days. Lakeshore restaurant, at right, braced for the worst by placing sand bags on its shoreline frontage. The brown color of water coming out of the river shows the degree to which silt and other debris is being deposited in the lake. For more photos, please turn to page 5. (Public Opinion photo by Jason Williams)

July 29, 1993